

Dear 1010DATA,

I am writing to apply for Developer, Intern position in your company. Through your official website I learned about this position. I believed my project experiences make me a qualified candidate for the position.

I used to work in a data analysis team which deal with a large amount of data from a social network. We write spider to fetch data from the social network and trying to detect the burst event as early as possible, it was a very interesting experience of mine. We stored the data in the MongoDB and process the data streamingly. The data source kind of like twitter, so we can trace the source of the burst event and analysis the transition of the information.

I believe my project experience and programming ability can handle the job. I will bring something interesting to you if you are willing to give me a chance to have a try.

I'm waiting for your reply. Thank you for your reading.
