Dear MongoDB,

I am writing to apply for Software Engineering Intern position in your company. Through your official website I learned about this position. I believed my project experiences make me a excellent candidate for the position.

I used to work with an online judge team of my university as a full-stack developer. In the last two years of my undergraduate study I became the team leader of that team. We built an online judge based on Django. Our judge is able to hold a contest which has thousands of people competed in the same time. Although we used Redis and MySQL as our databases, but I am very interested in using MongoDB in production environment.

I believe my project experience and programming ability can handle the job. I will bring something interesting to you if you are willing to give me a chance to have a try.

I'm waiting for your reply. Thank you for your reading.
